also invested this tribunal with the power to try and to punish persons who had committed crimes against peace, war crimes, and crimes against humanity. The justices and prosecutors of the projected "Court Martial" proceedings were also designated. The participants in this conference were the United States, Great Britain, the Provisional Government of France, and the Soviet Union. Nineteen "Governments of the United Nations" expressed their endorsement and adherence, including Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Poland. What we actually see here is the unbelievable spectacle of judicial representatives of governments guilty of having committed crimes against peace, war crimes, and crimes against humanity themselves reserving the exclusive right as victors in war to sit in judgment on another for the same crimes simply because the accused was defeated in battle and to satisfy ideo-political pressures at home. Moreover, Yugoslavia, one of the first Iron Curtain countries to endorse this action, was and is guilty of the Bleiberg-Maribor Massacres.

Among the sanctimonious hypocrites attending the London Conference to prepare the way for the Nuremberg Trials and to "agriculturize" West Germany forevermore, France condoned the massacre of hundreds of thousands of anti-Bolshevik Frenchmen by the Bolshevik-led, but American-financed and equipped, "Maquis." The indiscriminate fire-bombing of Dresden, a non-military target, was only one of several acts of genocide committed by Great Britain. The massacre of 15,000 Polish officers in the Katyn Forest by the Soviet Union was only one of many such atrocities committed. And, whether the U.S. atom-bombing of a Japan desperately suing for peace terms beforehand was necessary or genocidal, has yet to be debated and determined. Yet, these four governments arbitrarily elected to sit in judgment on only ONE of three defeated foes allegedly for the same crimes. This act of Allied irrationality was succinctly explained in a fiery editorial published in the September 19th, 1947 edition of the Chicago Tribune. Under the incriminating title of: "THE NUERNBERG MURDERS," it reads as follows:

"Mr. Justice Jackson of the Supreme Court, speaking before the Air Force Association in Columbus (Ohio), confessed that the Nuernberg war crimes trial was illegal. The admission was inadvertent, but nonetheless valid for that. What Jackson did was to admit that at Nuernberg, where he accepted the assistance of a Russian fellow prosecutor and pleaded before an international court on which a Russian judge sat, he insisted that the German defendants be held to account for violations of the laws of war to which Russia did not subscribe. . . .

"At Columbus, Jackson said: 'The whole mechanism by which the modern world has sought to give validity to the humane treatment of prisoners is at a standstill in Russia.' The Soviet Union, he stated, never became a party to the Geneva Convention of 1929 prescribing the rules for the treatment of prisoners of war. . . .

"Referring to the recent demand before the United Nations by Andrei Gromyko, Deputy Soviet Foreign Minister, that use of the atomic bomb be prohibited, Jackson said, 'If Russia desires new laws of war, her relation to existing ones should be clarified and settled' . . .

"This thought comes from Jackson a little late in the day. In the indictment against the Nuernberg defendants, Jackson specifically accused the Nazis on trial of having violated four articles of the Geneva Convention of 1929. The Soviet prosecutor, R. Rudenko, joined him in making this charge. . . .

"Not only are international military tribunals without standing under the Constitution and laws of the United States, but they are contrary to the American Articles of War, which specify that enemy violations of international law to the injury of Americans are to be tried by military commissions composed solely of American officers. This wasn't good enough for Jackson. HE HAD TO HAVE AN INTERNATIONAL TRIBUNAL, EVEN IF HE HAD TO INVENT IT HIMSELF — WHICH HE DID. In conceiving it, he accepted Russian prosecutors and judges as colleagues and helped them to hang Germans under laws which they refused to recognize themselves. . . .

"In doing so, Jackson was following out the notions of his boss, Mr. Roosevelt, who gave him his place on the Supreme Court. . . .

"Jackson and Roosevelt brought law into contempt by their disreputable fabrications. Men who could have been tried and punished legally they insisted on judging illegally. Of all the war crimes they imputed to others, none could have been worse in its enduring effects than this. It is incumbent upon the United States to disown them and their shameful work." (End of quote)

This no-nonsense editorial is sharp as a surgeon's scalpel. However, it failed to expose some of the "engineers" responsible for the emergence of Mr. Justice Robert H. Jackson as "Chief Prosecutor for the United States of America" at the Nuremberg Trials. Two of these "engineers" were Judge Samuel I. Rosenman and Bernard Baruch, the Zionist intimates and advisers of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, which explains a great deal without further comment being necessary.

The above recapitulation of the infamous Nuremberg scenario and its satanic orchestration also brings into focus why the perpetrators of the Bleiberg-Maribor Massacres were NOT Nurembergized and why references to this horrible crime were squelched for reasons of state, reasons which in themselves can not bear the light of day.

Guilty as Charged

As we have seen, justice went AWOL just as soon as the Nuremberg Trials were convened. As a matter of fact, justice, since that time, has been in dire jeopardy THIS side of the Iron, Bamboo, and Sugar Cane Curtains and virtually non-existent beyond these lines of demarcation between East and West. But, how the Allies aided and abetted Soviet criminality and Soviet-inspired criminality against humanity and, thus, are just as guilty as accessories-to-the-fact, was revealed quite recently in shocking exposes on "Operation Keelhaul." What has yet to receive equal public attention, is the story of "Operation Slaughterhouse," or the story of the Bleiberg-Maribor Massacres, which would never have occurred if the Allies (United States and Great Britain) had not buckled under Soviet demands to sell out anti-Bolshevik elements within Yugoslavia to Marshal Tito.

The man responsible for carrying out "Operation Slaughterhouse" is Marshal Tito, who enjoys a special relationship with London and Washington. He has pocketed millions in American aid, has been wine and dined at the White House in regal splendor, and has been lionized by London and Washington society. Formerly a protege of Stalin, he also became the protege of Winston Churchill and Franklin

"The so-called 'intelligentsia' always looks down with a really limitless condescension on anyone who has not been dragged through the obligatory schools and had the necessary knowledge pumped into him. The question has never been: What are the man's abilities? but: What has he learned? To these 'educated' people the biggest blockhead, if he is wrapped in enough diplomas is worth more than the brightest boy who happens to lack these precious wrappings."

Delano Roosevelt BEFORE the end of World War II. Since then, he has been adopted by the Anglo-American, Fabian Socialist, "Liberal Establishment" as the only man of reason behind the Iron Curtain and by the American people in particular as being the one "good guy" among a lot of "bad guys." Such are the reasoning capabilities of eggheaded nitwits and the gullibility of brainwashed peoples.

The Bleiberg-Maribor Massacres, in which almost 500,000 disarmed Croatian soldiers and refugee civilians were butchered by Tito's assassins, occurred during May 1945, or about four months BEFORE the London Conference which preceded the Nuremberg Trials. As both the British and American governments were directly involved in this genocidal incident, it follows that both were aware of it beforehand yet remained mute. Even more appalling is the fact that both could have prevented this outrage. For these reasons, the British and American governments must have conspired to bury the tragedy and their connection with it under an official blanket of silence. The Nuremberg Trials also helped to steer public interest away from what happened in the Balkans towards sole Nazi culpability, some actual but most imaginary. Later, after the Israelis managed to kidnap Adolf Eichmann and to put him on trial for war crimes amidst thunderous publicity, the proceedings against him were so stage-managed as to assure the convincing of most peoples that ONLY National Socialist Germany was guilty of war crimes. This brilliantly-staged, Israeli performance further helped to bury the truth about the Bleiberg-Maribor Massacres, helped to perpetuate the false facade of innocence maintained by the Allies, and to further enhance the public image of Marshal Tito. None, however, can ever escape guilt. All are guilty as charged.

Anatomy of Genocide

Months before the end of hostilities in the European Theater of Operations (ETO), the anti-Bolshevik, anti-Tito, and anti-Soviet Croatians of Yugoslavia desperately tried to surrender either to the British or to the American military authorities. Because Churchill and Roosevelt had made a deal with Stalin and had also committed themselves to the support of Marshal Tito in the Balkans, the British-American commands were reluctant to accept Croatian offers of unconditional surrender and extremely reluctant to grant refuge to Croatian civilians. Consequently, it follows that, if General Eisenhower, as supreme commander of allied forces in the ETO at the time was responsible for "Operation Keelhaul" as is charged, he must also be credited with responsibility for "Operation Slaughterhouse."

At the time of their offer to surrender, the Croatian army numbered sixteen well-equipped divisions, or about 250,000 seasoned troops. This determined force was more than capable of smashing Marshal Tito's partisans who, after having milched the Allies (United States and Great Britain) for astronomical support, achieved smashing victories against the German occupation forces ONLY in the Anglo-American press. This Croatian army was hell-bent on liquidating Tito and his partisans and then securing the W. Balkans against Soviet aggression. Had it been allowed to do this by London and Washington, the trend of post-World War II history would have turned out entirely different from the sad story it really is. However, because the Croatians were implacable foes of Bolshevism in the Balkans and, thus, in direct conflict with the joint interests of the Anglo-American-Soviet axis, they were doomed as a potential threat to what had already been planned for post-war Yugoslavia. This was made certain by luring the Croatians into a trap baited by the British military authorities stationed in the province of Carinthia in Austria.

The Allies knew beforehand that if the Croatians could not surrender to the Anglo-American military authorities they would
